Foreword

The text and tables in this report were produced by the National Center for Education Statistics (NCES) from data collected in the fall of 1982. This report updates Statistics of Public Libraries, 1977-78 published by NCES in 1982. That earlier report contained sixteen pages of introductory material which summarized the data and explained the methodology followed in collecting it. A similar introduction is not provided here in the interest of distributing the data quickly. Instead the data tables are introduced by the text of the NCES Bulletin summarizing survey results. Since the methodology is essentially the same as that followed in the 1977-78 survey, the earlier report may be consulted for details. Appendix B gives standard errors which are somewhat different from those in the 1977-78 report.

It should be noted that the introductory summary is a revision and correction of an article entitled "The NCES Survey of Public Libraries,1982" by Robert Heinz which appeared in the 1985 edition of the Bowker Annual of Library and Book Trade Information.

The Public Library Association is grateful to Helen Eckard (now deceased) of NCES for her work as Project Director for the survey, to Y.Y Chen who was responsible for quality control and production of tables and to O. Jean Brandes of NCES for his help in making this data available.

Questionnaire: Public Libraries, 1982

Statistics of Public Libraries, 1982

Almost 70,600 library outlets served the public in fall 1982, according to a survey conducted by the National Center for Education Statistics (NCES). The majority of these outlets (50,000) were bookmobile stops, underscoring the special effort public libraries have made to bring services to users. These stops supplemented about 8,600 central libraries, 6,900 branch libraries and 5,000 other outlets.

Public Library Staff

Overall, public libraries employed more than 92,000 staff in 1982, of which 41 percent were professional, 54 percent were technical, clerical and other staff, and 6 percent were plant operation and maintenance personnel. The percentages for specific groups of libraries varied according to the size of the population they served. For example, for those serving populations under 10,000, about two-thirds of the staff were professionals. This fraction dropped to one-third for libraries serving 1 million or more. The support staff made up only 29 percent of the total staff for libraries serving under 10,000 people but grew to 59 percent for those serving 1 million or more (table 2).

Almost two-thirds of all public libraries had from 1 to 10 full-time-equivalent (FTE) professional staff members. One percent of all public libraries employed over 50 FTE professionals, and at the other end of the scale, 19 percent employed only 1 FTE professional (not shown in tables). The average number of FTE professionals employed in public libraries ranged from 1 in the smallest libraries to 18 in the intermediate-size libraries serving populations of 100,000 to 249,000, and over 200 in libraries serving populations of 1 million or more (table 3).

A comparison with historical data shows a downward trend in the number and proportion of public library professional staff with less than a bachelor's degree (table 4). In 1982, only 22 percent of the professional staff had less than a bachelor's degree, down from 33 percent in 1974.[1]

Library Receipts

In fiscal year 1981-82, the public libraries received about $2.3 billion in revenues (not shown in tables).[2] Of this amount, 80 percent ($1.8 billion) came from local sources, 7 percent ($169 million) from State sources, 4 percent ($82 million) from Federal sources, and 9 percent ($212 million) from other sources. From 1978 to 1982, total receipts and those from local sources increased by about half, while receipts from State sources rose by about 60 percent. Receipts from Federal sources dropped by nearly a third. However, in mid-1982 the Consumer Price Index was 50.3 percent higher than in mid-1978; therefore, only State receipts were higher in constant dollars.

[1] Data from the 1974 and 1978 surveys were extracted from reports that did not provide information on measurement errors. Therefore, any comparison with these data contains a certain but unknown error, must be viewed with caution, and is primarily of general historical interest.

[2] Dollar amounts as in current dollars unless otherwise noted.

Library Expenditures

Public libraries spent $2.2 billion in fiscal year 1981-82, representing a slight increase in constant dollars since the last survey (1977-78). The largest expenditure was $1.2 billion for salaries and wages (table 5). The next largest was $322 million for library materials, which included $251 million for books, $36 million for periodicals, $7 million for microforms, 6 million for binding and rebinding, and $22 million for audiovisual and other materials (not shown in a tables).

* Includes $14.8 million for contracted computer services.

Library Collections

Public libraries stocked over 494 million volumes of books representing 307 million titles in 1982 (not shown in tables). In that year alone, they added 30.2 million new volumes to their collections, representing 16.4 million titles. However, many of these libraries were small. Over half (53 percent) reported holding less than 20,000 volumes. Overall, public libraries held 9.5 million bound volumes of periodicals, a sharp increase from 1978. Book holdings were up modestly, while subscription titles, totaling about 1 million, remained little changed from 1978 (not shown in tables).

Public Library Usage

A total of 15.5 million people visited libraries in a typical week in 1982, nearly twice those reported in 1978. As might be expected, the number of visits varied by the size of the population served (table 6). Over 1.1 billion items were charged out to users in 1982, a substantial increase from the estimated 986.7 million used in 1978.

over 1,000,000	14	1.5	86.4

Note.--Details may not add to totals because of rounding.

Interlibrary Loans

Many public libraries borrow materials from other libraries of all types including other public libraries. In 1982, they provided 4.3 million such loans and received 4.8 million. Libraries serving population under 25,000 received approximately half of all inter-library loans.

Use of Computers

The use of computers in various library functions in new enough that the 1982 survey was the first NCES library survey to include questions on such usage. It found that the percentage of all public libraries using computers was rather low, as the following list shows:

Computer Use	Percent of libraries
acquisitions	3.4 percent
public access catalog	1.9 percent
computer output microfilm catalog	3.4 percent reference	4.6 percent
circulation	5.1 percent
interlibrary loan	8.0 percent
serials control	1.2 percent administration	6.0 percent
other functions	5.7 percent

In each of the functions listed, suburban public libraries had both the highest number and the highest percentage of libraries using computers. About 9 percent of all public libraries had microcomputers; 48 percent of these libraries permitted free public access to the microcomputers, 16 percent permitted public use for a fee, and the other one-third did not permit public access.

Library Hours and Days Open

More than half (53 percent) of all public libraries were open fewer than 40 hours per week. This proportion was higher (70 percent) for small libraries serving under 10,000 people. Almost one-sixth of the libraries (15 percent) were upon 40-49 hours per week. Another 32 percent were open 50 hours or more per week. Half (50 percent) of all public libraries were open 6 days per week, and 7 percent were open 7 days per week. Urban libraries tended to be open more days with one-third open 7 days a week.

Table 7. -- Percent of libraries open during a week, by number of days and location: Fall 1981

Note: Details may not add to total because of rounding.

Methodology

The survey sample included 1,481 main public libraries out of a universe of 8,597 for the 50 states and the District of Columbia. The sample was selected with stratifications by region, SMSA location, and size of population served. Of these selected libraries, 1,349 responded, yielding a response rate of 91 percent. The sampling weights were adjusted to correct for nonresponse bias.

Reliability of Estimates

Statistics used in this report are subject to sampling variability. The estimated standard error of a statistic (a measure of variation due to sampling) can be used to examine the precision obtained in a particular sample. If all possible samples were surveyed under similar conditions, intervals of 1.645 standard errors below to 1.645 standard errors above a particular statistic would include the average result of these samples in approximately 90 percent of the cases. For example, for the first item in table 2 (number of professional staff in all libraries), a 90 percent confidence interval is from 36,876 to 38,264 (37,570 plus or minus 1.645 times 422). If this procedure were followed for every possible sample, about 90 percent of the intervals would include the average number from all possible samples. It should be noted, however, that the standard error reflects primarily the imprecision of the estimate due to sampling. The standard error does not include the effects of any biases due to nonresponse, measurement error, processing error, or other systematic errors that would occur even in a complete survey or census.

In general, standard error of a statistic (number or dollar amount) cited in the text is about 1 to 2 percent of the statistic. The following statistics and their standard errors are given as illustrations:

Categories	Statistics	Standard error
Professional staff	37,570	422
Professional staff with graduate degree	21,200	263
Books (volumes held)	494,149,128	3,510,330
Books (volumes added)	30,203,701	451,953

As noted earlier, standard errors cannot be estimated for comparisons of the data from the 1974, 1978 and 1982 surveys, so such comparisons may not be statistically dependable.

LIBRARY GENERAL INFORMATION SURVEY (LIBGIS VI)
PUBLIC LIBRARIES, 1982

READ THESE INSTRUCTIONS BEFORE COMPLETING THIS FORM. Mail the completed form to your coordinating State library agency. If you do not have a coordinating State library agency, mail the completed form to Raven Systems and Research, Inc., 500 E Street, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20024.

INSTRUCTIONS

LIBRARY. For the purpose of this survey, a library is defined as any organized collection of printed books, periodicals, and any other graphic or audiovisual materials, with the services of a staff to provide and facilitate the use of such materials as are required to meet the informational, research, educational, or recreational needs of its users. Included in this definition are information and media centers. A library may consist of a single unit, or it may be a multiunit organization having branches and other outlets administered by a single director under a unified budget.

PUBLIC LIBRARY. A library that serves free all residents of a given community, district, or region, and receives its financial support, in whole or in part, from public funds. In addition to the tax-supported municipal, county, and regional public libraries, this definition includes privately controlled libraries, which render, without charge, general library service to a community. The public library is governed by a single board of trustees or authority, and is administered by a single director. Examples of public libraries are: (1) the city library with its branches, and (2) the county, multicounty, or regional library with outlets functioning as branches.

BRANCHES. Branches are auxiliary libraries with separate quarters, a permanent basic collection of books and other library materials, a permanent staff, and a regular schedule, but administered from a central unit.

TIME PERIOD COVERED. Parts I, II, VII, and VIII are for Fall 1982. Parts III, IV, V, VI and IX are for the fiscal year that ended during the calendar year of January 1, 1982 through December 31, 1982.

NEED FOR ESTIMATES. Do not leave any items blank. Enter "0" if the appropriate entry for an item is zero or "none." Enter "N. App." if an item does not apply to your library. If an exact figure is not available for a particular item, but it is known that the amount is greater than zero, ENTER AN ESTIMATE OF THE AMOUNT. Indicate that the figure is an estimate by parentheses. Estimates are important if exact data are not available.

IDENTIFICATION NUMBER. Enter the identification number at the upper right corner of each page, in item captioned "Identification Number." This number is given in the upper right corner of the mailing label.

QUESTIONS. If you have any questions, write to the National Center for Education Statistics, ATTN: Presidential Building, Learning Resources Branch, 400 Maryland Avenue, SW., Washington, D.C. 20202, or call Helen M. Eckard, NCES project officer, (301) 436-6662, or Chris Heil, contractor, (202) 479-2000.

PART I - NUMBER OF PUBLIC SERVICE OUTLETS, FALL 1982

TYPE OF PUBLIC SERVICE OUTLET (Lines 2 through 5). Each public service outlet administered by your library should be reported as one and only one type of public service outlet. Do NOT report any single outlet twice. Service units that are NOT OPEN TO THE PUBLIC are NOT to be reported as public service outlets.

CENTRAL LIBRARY (Line 2). The single unit library or the unit which is the administrative center, where the principal collections are kept and handled. Also called Main Library. Some county, multicounty, and regional libraries may not have a main library.

BRANCH LIBRARIES (Line 3). Branch libraries are auxiliary units which have all of the following: (1) separate quarters, (2) a permanent basic collection of books, (3) a permanent staff, and (4) a regular schedule for opening to the public. They are, however, administered from a central unit.

BOOKMOBILE AND OTHER MOBILE UNIT STOPS (Line 4). Report the number of places at which bookmobiles and other mobile units stop periodically to provide library service. DO NOT REPORT THE NUMBER OF STOPS PER WEEK OR PER MONTH.

PART II - LIBRARY STAFF, FALL 1982

FULL-TIME EMPLOYEES (Line 7). Report all paid employees who work the full-time work week established for your library, if your full-time work week is 35 hours or more. However, if your full-time work week is fewer than 35 hours, report all paid employees as part-time employees, in Lines 8 through 11. Do NOT include volunteer help.

PART-TIME EMPLOYEES (Line 8). Report all paid employees who work less than the full-time work week for your library or who work less than 35 hours per week if your work-week is less than 35 hours (see preceding item 12). Do NOT include volunteer help.

FULL-TIME EQUIVALENTS OF PART-TIME EMPLOYEES (Line 9). To compute "full-time equivalents" (FTE) of part-time employees, take the number of hours worked per week by a part-time employee and divide it by the number of hours in your full-time work week (or by the number of hours considered by your library to be a full-time work week if your full-time work week is less than 35 hours). The following examples illustrate the method of determining full-time equivalents (FTE's), shown to one decimal place:

a. A part-time employee who works 20 hours per week in a library having a 40 hour work week is computed as follows: 20 divided by 40 equals .5 FTE.

b. A part-time employee who works 20 hours per week in a library having a 30 hour work week is computed as follows: 20 divided by 30 equals .7 FTE.

c. An employee who works in a library on a full-time basis during only one-half of the fiscal year would be counted as ONE PART-TIME EMPLOYEE on Line 8, and .5 FTE on Lines 9 and 10.

It should be noted that student assistants who work part-time and are paid for such part-time work should be included here. Do NOT include student and adult volunteers – that is, persons who work in the library, but who receive no pay for such work.

LIBRARIAN. A staff member doing work that requires professional training and skill in the theoretical and/or scientific aspect of library work, as distinct from its mechanical or clerical aspect.

Do NOT include plant operation and maintenance staff vacant positions. Do NOT include technical, clerical, and other staff vacant positions. Do NOT include vacant positions that are established in your budget for employees who work on a regular schedule in a library that is not administered by your library. Show to one decimal place.

Do NOT include the value of any contributed services or the value of "in-kind" gifts and donations.

PART IV - LIBRARY EXPENDITURES FROM ALL SOURCES, FISCAL YEAR 1982

It includes cleaning, disinfecting, heating, lighting, communications, power, moving furniture, handling stores, caring for grounds, and other such housekeeping activities as are repeated somewhat regularly on a daily, weekly, monthly, or seasonal basis. It does NOT include the repairs and replacement of facilities and equipment.

ALL OTHER EXPENDITURES (Line 37). The amount reported here should be the difference between the amount of total expenditures (Line 39) and the sum of all itemized expenditures (sum of Lines 23 through 36) for fiscal year 1982.

TOTAL EXPENDITURES (Line 38). This amount should be the sum of Lines 23 through 37.

PART V - LIBRARY COLLECTION, FISCAL YEAR 1982

ADDED DURING FISCAL YEAR (Column (a)). Report the gross number added. Do NOT subtract the number withdrawn.

BOOK STOCK (Lines 39 and 40). Report the library's cataloged collection(s) of books and other printed materials that are cataloged in the same manner as books and that are interfiled with, or that may be interfiled with, books. For example, a government document or a yearbook that has been cataloged as a book and shelved with books is to be reported as book stock. Collections of government documents, pamphlets, paperback books, technical reports, manuscripts, memoirs, proceedings, transactions of societies, monographic and publishers' series, etc., that are NOT cataloged in the same manner as books should NOT be reported as book stock. Book stock may be cataloged by the Library of Congress, Dewey Decimal, or any other classification scheme adopted by that library.

VOLUMES (Lines 39, 41, and 44). For reporting purposes, a volume is a physical unit of any printed, typewritten, handwritten, mimeographed, or processed work, contained in one binding or portfolio, hardbound or paperbound, which has been cataloged, classified, and/or made ready for use.

TITLES (Lines 40, 42, 43, 45, 46, 47, 49, 50, and 51). For reporting purposes, a title is a publication which forms a separate bibliographic whole, whether issued in one or several volumes, reels, discs, slides, or parts. It applies equally to printed materials, such as books and periodicals, as well as to audiovisual materials and microforms.

Report the number of items for which a separate shelflist card has been made. (SHELFLIST: A record of materials in a library, arranged in the order in which the materials stand when they are shelved or stored.) Thus, six copies of the same edition of a title count as one title; two editions of the same title which have been cataloged or recorded separately count as two titles; a set of six items for which six shelflist cards have been made counts as six titles; and two sets of the same edition for which one shelflist card has been made count as one title.

METHOD FOR ESTIMATING THE NUMBER OF TITLES IN THE COLLECTION: A library which does not maintain a title count of its various collections, and that cannot easily count the number of separate shelflist cards, should use the following statistically sound method for estimating this count:

1. Count the number of titles in one inch of the shelflist cards in the shelflist;

2. Repeat step one at random intervals (e.g., count one inch in every foot) throughout the shelflist;

3. Average the number of titles per inch;

4. Multiply the average titles per inch by the number of inches of cards in this shelflist.

PERIODICALS (Lines 41 through 45). A periodical is a publication constituting one issue in a continuous series under the same title published at regular or irregular intervals, over an indefinite period, individual issues in the series being numbered consecutively or each issue being dated. Newspapers as well as publications appearing annually or less frequently are included in the definition.

CURRENT PERIODICAL SUBSCRIPTIONS (Line 43). Report number of titles subscribed to, and not number of individual issues (exclude duplicate subscriptions).

UNBOUND NONCURRENT PERIODICALS (Lines 44 and 45). Report the number of volumes and titles of nearly complete sets of back issues which are kept unbound. Include volumes and titles NOT reported in Lines 41 and 42 (exclude non-current periodical subscriptions).

MICROFORMS (Lines 46 through 48). Microforms are materials that have been photographically reduced in size for storage, protection, and inexpensive publication purposes, and which must be read with the help of enlarging instruments. Examples of microforms are: microfilm, microcard, and microfiche. These are also called microcopy and microtext.

NUMBER OF PHYSICAL UNITS OF MICROFORMS (Line 48). A total of all microform holdings should be reported here. For reporting purposes, each item of microfiche, microfilm, and microcards should be counted as "one".

NUMBER OF TITLES OF SOUND RECORDINGS (Line 49). A sound recording is defined as a recording on which sound vibrations have been registered by mechanical or electrical means so that the sound may be reproduced. Includes phono discs (also called phonograph records), reel-to-reel tapes, cassette tapes, cartridge tapes, etc.

NUMBER OF TITLES OF FILMS (MOTION PICTURES) (Line 50). A motion picture is defined as a length of film with or without recorded sound bearing a sequence of images which creates the illusion of movement when projected in rapid succession. Common film sizes include 16mm, 18 mm, and super/single 8mm.

ALL OTHER AUDIOVISUAL AND LIBRARY MATERIALS (Line 51). Report the total number of titles of all other audiovisual and library materials (NOT counted in Lines 47 and 48). Include filmstrips, slide sets, overhead transparency sets, mixed media (multimedia) kits, flat pictures, study print sets, maps, charts, games, etc.

DIRECT CIRCULATION TO LIBRARY USERS (Line 52). Report the number of transactions of materials charged out to library users by members of your library staff.

TOTAL NUMBER OF REGISTERED BORROWERS (Line 53).

Report the total number of registered borrowers for your library as of September 30, 1982. If figure is not available for that date, report for another date during Fall, 1982.

A registered borrower is a library user who has applied for and received an identification number or card from the public library which establishes the conditions under which he may borrow library materials.

INTERLIBRARY LOANS (Lines 54 through 55). These are materials sent in answer to specific title, author, or subject requests made between libraries or library agencies that are NOT under the same administration.

BULK LOANS (Line 56). These are materials received in rotating collections and other bulk loans from libraries, library agencies, and other sources that are NOT under your library's administration.

PART VII - DEVELOPMENTAL AREAS, FALL 1982
Section A - LIBRARY USE PER TYPICAL WEEK, FALL 1982

TOTAL ATTENDANCE IN LIBRARY PER TYPICAL WEEK (Line 57). Report the total number of persons entering the library per typical week for use of the library's materials and/or services, including persons attending activities, meetings, and those persons requiring no staff services.

ATTENDANCE FOR USE OF LIBRARY MATERIALS (Line 58). Report the total number of persons entering the library per typical week for use of the library's materials.

ATTENDANCE FOR MEETINGS AND ACTIVITIES (Lines 59 and 60). Report the total number of persons entering the library per typical week for meetings and activities (1) sponsored or assisted by library staff on Line 59; and (2) for meetings and activities NOT sponsored or assisted by library staff on Line 60.

IN-LIBRARY USE OF LIBRARY MATERIALS PER TYPICAL WEEK (Line 61). Report the total number of materials utilized in the library, but NOT checked out. They include reference books, periodicals, book stock, and all other library materials that are used WITHIN the library.

TOTAL REFERENCE TRANSACTIONS PER TYPICAL WEEK (Line 62). Report the total reference transactions per typical week. A reference transaction is an information contact which involves the knowledge, use, recommendation, interpretation, or instruction in the use of one or more information sources by a member of the library staff. Information sources include printed and non-printed materials, machine-readable data bases (including computer-assisted instruction), catalogs and other holdings records, and, through communication or referral, other libraries and institutions, and persons both inside and outside the library. A contact that includes both reference and directional services should be reported as one reference transaction. When a staff member utilizes information gained from previous use of information sources to answer a question, report as a reference transaction, even if the source is not consulted again during this transaction. Duration should not be an element in determining whether a transaction is reference or directional.

TOTAL DIRECTIONAL TRANSACTIONS PER TYPICAL WEEK (Line 63). Report the total directional transactions per typical week. A directional transaction is an information contact which facilitates the use of the library in which the contact occurs and which does NOT involve the knowledge, use, recommendation, interpretation, or instruction in the use of, any information sources other than those which describe that library, such as schedules, floor plans, handbooks, and policy statements. Examples of directional transactions include giving directions for locating, within the library, staff, library users, or physical features, etc., and giving assistance of a non-bibliographic nature with machines.

GROUP TRANSACTIONS, 1982 (Lines 64 and 65). A group transaction is an information contact in which a staff member provides information services, usually intended for a number of persons, rather than an individualized response to a specific need of one or two persons at a time. Examples of group transactions are: lectures, library tours, book reviews and discussions, media presentations and similar programs, instructional programs in research methods and similar programs. If a series of such presentations is made, each session should be counted separately. Group transactions include transactions both on and off the library premises, as long as such transactions are sponsored by the library. On Line 64 report the total number of group transactions per typical week made on the library premises, and on Line 65 those group transactions made off the library premises.

TOTAL INFORMATION AND REFERRAL SERVICE TRANSACTIONS (Line 66). A referral transaction is a reference transaction which involves the provision of information about or from groups or organizations. A community referral transaction involves the provision of information about the local community, community activities, community services or agencies, and community calendars. Such a transaction typically requires the determination of the user's need and the appropriate agency-information referral to meet this need. Community services resource referral files, schedules of events and maps of the community may be consulted.

Other referral transactions reach beyond the local community and involve the provision of information about or from offices, departments, or agencies outside of the library (other than those encompassed by community referral). Such a transaction may require directing the user to persons or organizations external to the library for an answer to a question.

COMPUTER EQUIPMENT (Lines 67 through 78). For the purpose of this survey, a computer is defined as any central processing unit, with either online or offline operations, and its related peripheral equipment (e.g., terminals, printers, etc.).

CONTRACTING FOR COMPUTER SERVICES (Line 68). For the purpose of this survey, contracted computer services are those which the library purchases from library networks, cooperative library organizations, commercial organizations, etc.

REPORTING COMPUTERIZED SERVICES (Lines 69 through 77). For each computerized service or activity performed ONLINE enter "X" in Column (a), (b), or (c) depending on the type of computer used. For each computerized service or activity performed OFFLINE enter "X" in Column (d), (e), or (f) depending on the type of computer used. For contracted services for any of the computerized services or activities performed enter "X" in Column (g).

ONLINE. Pertains to equipment or devices under the control of the central processing unit. The input data enters the computer directly from the point of origin or the output data is transmitted directly to where it is used.

OFFLINE. Pertains to equipment or devices not under the control of the central processing unit. Contrast to ONLINE.

MICRO, MINI, AND MAIN FRAME COMPUTERS. For the purposes of this survey, a MICRO computer has an internal memory of less than 64 bytes; a MINI computer has an internal memory of 64 to 256 bytes; and a MAIN FRAME computer has an internal memory of more than 256 bytes.

ACQUISITIONS (Line 69). Ordering or purchasing books, periodicals, and other library materials, and equipment, and maintaining records of these additions.

PUBLIC ACCESS CATALOG (Line 70). A catalog of bibliographic records in machine readable form, maintained in a computer system and permitting interactive access through terminals which are in direct and continuing communication with the computer for the duration of the transaction. Access is typically gained through predetermined procedures, utilizing search keys such as: author, title, subject, book number or a combination of these.

COMPUTER-OUTPUT-MICROFILM (COM) CATALOG (Line 71). A library catalog generated by a microfilm printer that will take output directly from the computer, thus substituting for a line printer or tape output.

REFERENCE (Line 72). Locating, researching, and supplying specific information for library patrons.

CIRCULATION (Line 73). The service of lending, which includes providing photocopied materials in lieu of the material itself, and the process of maintaining statistical records of these transactions.

INTERLIBRARY LOAN (Line 74). Borrowing or exchanging library materials among cooperating libraries.

SERIALS CONTROL (Line 75). For the purpose of this survey, serials control includes all the functions of acquiring, maintaining, and record keeping on all serials. A serial is defined as a publication issued in successive parts, usually at regular intervals, and as a rule, intended to be continued indefinitely. Serials include periodicals, newspapers, annuals (reports, yearbooks, etc.), memoirs, proceedings, and transactions of societies; they may include monographic and publishers' series.

ADMINISTRATIVE USES (Line 76). Administrative uses of the computer may be for bookkeeping, billing, payroll, personnel, financial records, i.e., budgets, inventory control, etc.

OTHER (Line 77). Enter here any other services or activities not included in any of Lines 69-77 which are computerized, and specify.

PUBLIC USE OF MICRO COMPUTER (Line 78). If your library allows the public to use its micro computer, answer yes. If your answer is yes, check whether the use of the computer is free to the public or a fee is charged.

PART VIII - LIBRARY HOURS AND DAYS OPEN PER WEEK, FALL, 1982

HOURS OPEN PER TYPICAL WEEK (Line 79). This is the total number of hours the library is open in a typical week, and is determined by adding the number of hours the library is open to users for each day of the typical week. Report the total in whole hours only, omit fractions.

DAYS OPEN PER TYPICAL WEEK (Line 80). This is the total number of days the library is open in a typical week, and is determined by adding the number of days the library is open to users for two hours or more for each day of the typical week. Report the total in whole days only, omit fractions.

PART IX - LIBRARY PHYSICAL FACILITIES, FISCAL YEAR 1982

NET AREA (Line 81). Net area, in square feet, of space assigned for library purposes is the total space which can be put to use in furtherance of the library's mission. It consists of the sum of all areas on all floors of the buildings that have been assigned to or are used for library functions or purposes. It includes space for readers and reading areas, bookstack and related storage areas for the book collections, audiovisual materials, and other materials, working spaces for staff, space for services to users (including the card catalog), public service desks, copying equipment, audiovisual equipment, other library equipment, aisles between bookstack ranges and library furnishings, and similar useful space. Such space does NOT include vestibules, lobbies or traffic areas, janitorial or custodial storage or service areas, toilets, elevator to stairway space, building corridors, or similar space not specifically used for library functions.

SHELVING CAPACITY (Line 82). The total length, in feet, of the shelving available for the library materials is determined by adding the length, in feet, of all of the shelves in the bookstore sections and in the audiovisual and other materials sections. Only the shelves in the sections used for shelving the regular collections should be counted. Such shelving does NOT include shelves for materials-in-process in technical areas, staging or sorting shelves in the circulation areas, shelves serving as bookcases in offices, and shelves in receiving rooms used for storing transient materials.

SEATING CAPACITY (Line 83). The number of seats available for the library users should be given for the library as a whole, including: general reading area seats, lounge seats, group study seats, other materials seats, study carrels, study area seats, typing room seats, seminar room seats (when available on an open basis), etc. Seats at index tables, card catalog reference tables, and other "non-study" seats should not be counted in the total, nor should seats in locked rooms not normally open to library users, such as auditorium and general meeting room seats.

The Public Library: Democracy's Resource
A Statement of Principles

The public library is unique among our American institutions. Only the public library provides an open-and nonjudgmental environment in which individuals and their interests are brought together with the universe of ideas and information. The ideas and information available through the public library span the entire spectrum of knowledge and opinions. The uses made of the ideas and information are as varied as the individuals who seek them. Public libraries freely offer access to their collections and services to all members of the community without regard to race, citizenship, age, education level, economic status, or any other qualification or condition.

Free access to ideas and information, a prerequisite to the existence of a responsible citizenship, is as fundamental to America as are the principles of freedom, equality and individual rights. This access is also fundamental to our social, political and cultural systems. Our founding documents eloquently express the concepts of an open society in which the hopes and aspirations of individuals are best realized in a political system which honors the consent of the governed, the greatest good for the greatest number, and tolerance and acceptance of the diversity of human thought and endeavor.

Access to information and the recorded wisdom and experience of others has long been held a requirement for achieving personal equality, and for improving the quality of life and thought in the daily activities and relationships of individuals. Along with the freedoms of speech, press, and religious expression, and publicly supported schools freely open to all, the public library emerged as one of those "institutions" of American life through which our highest aspirations are expressed. These "institutions" are the visible signs of the nation's abstract beliefs in the right to "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness." Today, public libraries are integral parts of their communities in the fifty states and territories of the United States.

Public libraries were founded and supported by appropriations from tax revenues for very practical reasons: to provide and conserve books and journals economically for community use. Today, public libraries continue to provide free access to, and promote the communication of, ideas and information so that individuals on their own behalf, and groups, agencies, organizations and institutions can take active control of their lives and affairs. Public libraries have multiple roles: they serve the entire community as a center for reliable information; they provide opportunity and encouragement for children, young adults, and adults to educate themselves continuously; they create opportunities for recreation and personal enrichment; and they provide a place where inquiring minds may encounter the rich diversity of concepts so necessary for a democratic society whose daily survival depends on the free and competitive flow of ideas.

To perform these varied roles, public libraries assemble, make available, and preserve organized collections of books, related materials and systems in which ideas and information are recorded. Public libraries employ staff with special skills, knowledge, and abilities to help library users find the ideas, information and materials to meet their diverse interests. The public library initiates and promotes information services, program events, exhibits, story hours, film showings, discussion groups and many other activities. Public libraries use assessment and planning processes to determine community needs and interests, often in cooperation with other community agencies and organizations. Libraries develop services to meet those needs and interests.

As the forms in which ideas and information are stored change, and will continue to change, the challenge of making the widest possible range of information accessible to all remains constant. The ideals which brought free public libraries into existence are as vital now as when they were formulated. Public libraries continue to be of enduring importance to the maintenance of our free democratic society. There is no comparable institution in American life.
